Our contractor Kier will be working on Bristol Road within Wraxall village next Sunday 23rd February 2020. The purpose of the work is to repair our duct, (we suspect it's been crushed), and the contractor knows the location where they need to excavate so the repair should be completed and the road reinstated on the day. The work will be carried out under temporary traffic lights and these will be manually operated by the contractor to aid the flow of traffic and reduce delays. The contractor will also manage traffic entering and leaving the Battleaxes Pub to ensure customers can access the site without any issues. I will also contact Mr. de Brito, (Battleaxes manager), to inform him of our plans.

Buses will be able to pass through our roadworks so I'm not expecting any issues with passengers wanting to catch a bus from Wraxall.
