

V.E.DAY 75 CELEBRATIONS 2020

The early May Bank Holiday has been moved this year from Monday to Friday May 8th, to celebrate 75 years of peace in Europe. The end of World War 2 in Europe was announced at 3pm May 8th 1945.

There are national and local events planned for the week-end May 8th – May 10th, to celebrate the peace and also commemorate those who died in the conflict.

On behalf of the Parish Council, I am arranging a “street” party for residents at Failand Village Hall on Saturday afternoon, May 9th. Please note the date in your diary. The Failand Society and the Drama group have volunteered their support.

Various entertainments are planned, and it is hoped to present a short “playlet”, for which we mainly need children, and perhaps Mums with the youngest. No acting experience is required – think “extras” in a play.

I would also like to form a small group of people willing to assist with the organisation on the day. Please support this event, and if you can help in any way, contact me.
